Closer to Nature wins top Practical Parenting Magazine Award

Tomme Tippee's Closer to Nature® range chalked up another top honour last week with a prestigious award for the Electric Steriliser at the Practical Parenting Awards in London. The steriliser led the field in the search for the best bottle starter kit and PR Manager Avril Deane was presented with a commemorative certificate by Susie Boone, editor of Practical Parenting.

The electric steriliser with its digital display and neat streamlined shape has also won the Platinum award in the latest issue of Baby and Toddler Gear Magazine, while the Closer to Nature bottle won the Gold award in the bottle test, with testers impressed by the complete lack of wind or colic after using the bottle.

The steriliser (RRP $129.95) was a favourite with all our testers...the easiest and quickest to use. The panel loved the locking lid for extra safety and the unique sterile work surface. ‘Everyone agreed that this was an excellent quality steriliser at a very good price.’

And just to wrap up a trio of awards, the Closer to Nature® range won the major Editor’s Award in the Prima Baby Awards.

The Closer to Nature range – the hit of the show at the Baby Show in London at the weekend – is a brilliant choice for mums who want to combine breast and bottle feeding, enabling babies to move from breast to bottle and back again with no fuss or stress.
